BOOZE PEDDLERS NOT PROSECUTED

Assertion of Ohican Before the Daugherty Committee.

TELLS STORY OF LIQUOR DEALS

Testifies That the Number of Whisky Permits in Ohio Increased From 3,000 in 1921 to More Than 11,000 in 1924—Fake Revenue Stamps and Liquor Permits Used to Get Whisky Out of Distillery, Witness Says.

Washington, May 14.—Testifying before the senate committee investigating the record of former Attorney General Daugherty, H. J. Burton, who operates a private detective agency at Columbus, declared that just before the late President Harding was inaugurated orders were issued by the prohibition bureau to "clean up the liquor situation" in Washington. Witness declared that as a result 34 "professional bootleggers" were arrested, but none ever prosecuted.

Burton, who said he was now employed as a special investigator by Governor Donahey of Ohio, said that after he and other agents had seized 100 cases of liquor in Cleveland in 1921, he was offered $1,000 by Fred Kohler, Jr., if he "would keep away from the trial." He said there was no prosecution in the case.

Burton testified that the number of liquor permits in Ohio had increased from about 3,000 in March, 1921, to over 11,000 in March, 1924. These permits, he added, are issued by State Director of Prohibition Russell.

A "Captain Curry" whom Burton said operated two yachts in the liquor traffic between Cleveland and the Canadian shore of Lake Erie, was twice caught bringing in liquor, but escaped with a small fine. Burton said that Curry told him he had interested some members of the Union club of Cleveland in his case.

Burton then took up the Armand Drug and Candy case. He said officials of the company were in a "deal" to get 289,000 quarts of liquor out of the Heiner distillery at Troy, O.

Lawrence Fitzpatrick, Burton said, told him that he had been given two suitcases of fake revenue stamps and liquor permits at the Ungerleider brokerage office in Cleveland. The permits, he said, represented 15,000 barrels of whisky.

Burton testified a man named Grossburg, who he called "one of the Cleveland bootlegger kings," claimed that he had lost a carload of liquor. James Morgan, an investigator for the American Railway Express company, told him, Burton said, that a part of the liquor had been found in Ungerleider's office.

"When William P. McNeer, a dry agent, reported Ungerleider's connection with the liquor he lost his job," said Burton.

Burton said it was well known in Ohio "that Ungerleider was a close friend" of Harry Daugherty.

In February, 1922, Burton testified, William Bressler stopped him on the street in Cleveland and offered him $6,000 if he would send some dry agents who were guarding a carload of liquor "on a wild goose chase."

TO RESIGN JUNE 1

Premier Poincare Cancels Conference With Premier MacDonald.

Paris, May 14.—A proposed conference with Premier MacDonald in London has been canceled by Premier Poincare, who, with his cabinet, will resign June 1. Guidance of France's foreign policy will be assured by his successor, a leader of the left, who will have a more moderate attitude toward reparations settlement. Edouard Herriot, Socialist mayor of Lyons, is considered the most likely successor to the premiership, but he must make arrangement for support of other parties of the left, who hold a balance of power in the new chamber.

Meanwhile, the press of the left continues its clamor for President Millerand's resignation. The French franc continued its decline, being quoted at 18.30 to the dollar.

TO FORCE LOWER FREIGHT RATES

New Move Made by Coalition in the Senate.

FIRST STEP TAKEN BY PITTMAN

Nevada Solon Tacks the Long and Short Haul Bill Onto the Army Appropriation Measure—Former Bill, Which Would Amend Esch-Cummins Act, Vigorously Opposed by the Railroads.

Washington, May 14.—Progressives in the senate are planning to force lowering of railway freight rates.

The first step in this direction was taken when Senator Pittman (Dem., Nev.) tacked the "long and short haul bill" upon the war department appropriation measure. It is realized that rail legislation could not be acted upon if it was taken in order, so the expedient of adding it to an appropriation bill has been used.

The band of Republican "progressives" and Democrats are determined to force a vote upon the amendment if possible, leaders say. The "long and short haul" bill reported out of the interstate commerce committee by its Democratic chairman, Senator Smith, is vigorously opposed by the railroads. Briefly it would prevent them from charging a lower rate for a long than a short haul. It has previously been the custom of the roads, according to charges made by Pittman on the floor, to reduce their rates along the waterways where rates were cheap. Pittman said that these low rates were merely given to chase steamboats out of business.

Now the charge is made that transcontinental rates have been lowered by the railroad to hurt shipping from coast to coast through the Panama canal. Pittman says if their plan was carried out as placed before the interstate commerce commission half the shipping of the Panama canal would be killed off within a short time.

The army appropriation measure contains an appropriation of $7,500,000 for the Panama canal and hence the railroad issue was advanced by Pittman. The railroads now are protected by Section 4 of the Esch-Cummins act, which the amendment would repeal.

Most of the leaders do not wish to vote on the issue at this time and thus another test of strength between the Democratic-Progressive coalition and the remainder of the senate is in prospect. The success of the coalition rests this time, as on previous occasions, upon how many votes the Democrats can furnish.

KILLS TWO AND SELF

Fresh Air Dispute at Plant the Cause of a Triple Tragedy.

Chicago, May 14.—John C. Gardner, 60, an inspector for the Illinois Mal-ble Iron company, shot and killed Herman Krause, 40, and R. W. Wilcox, 34, also inspectors. Gardner took a shot at a third man, but missed, threatened 35 other employees, and then ran a half mile from the plant to a vacant lot and committed suicide. A son of Wilcox started the trouble when he insisted on keeping open the window in the office occupied by the inspectors and other employees. Gardner argued against keeping the window open on the grounds that the cold air made him ill. The shooting followed.

DEFIES "DESPOTISM"

Indiana Realm of the Ku Klux Klan in Open Revolt.

Indianapolis, May 14.—The Indiana realm of the Ku Klux Klan is in open revolt against the national organization. D. C. Stephenson, elected grand dragon by Klan representatives from 91 of the 92 counties in the state, announced that the Indiana Klansmen had thrown off all outside control that was not in harmony with their purposes. "Our action does not necessarily mean secession," Stephenson explained. "We are going to defy the despotism of those who have used the Klan for their own personal gain."

Prisoners Recaptured.

McAlester, Okla., May 14.—Of 12 prisoners who escaped from the state penitentiary here all but three have been recaptured. The men dashed to freedom as they were being taken to work at the pen brick plant. Poses quickly picked up nine of them.

THE WEATHER.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Entitled to War Insurance.

Bucyrus, O., May 14.—The Veterans' Bureau at Washington has decided that Mrs. J. C. Work of Attica, O., mother of the first American victim of the World War, is entitled to benefits of war risk insurance and she will receive $25 a month for the remainder of her life. The benefits are retroactive to May 20, 1917, when Mrs. Work's daughter, Mrs. Edith Work Ayres, an army nurse, was killed while en route to Europe aboard the Mongolia. A piece of shell pierced her skull while gunners aboard the Mongolia were at target practice.

Thirteen Plead Guilty.

Cleveland, May 14.—Thirteen of the 16 men on trial in federal court here charged with conspiracy to manufacture and transport beer from the Smith Products company, Youngstown, O., to Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown, changed their pleas to guilty. Three Youngstown men, P. F. Scamion, William J. Walzer and Peter Adams, went on trial before a jury of 10 men and two women before Federal Judge John M. Killits. Those who pleaded guilty will be sentenced after the trial.

To Collect Occupational Tax.

Youngstown, O., May 14.—The newly appointed tax bureau is making plans to collect the occupational taxes, which range from $2 to $25, being designed to conform to the individual's income. Workers in the building trades, which compose a strong element of the labor congress, are taxed from $3 to $10 a year. The administration, in working out rates, tried to include every known type of employment.

Two Girls Held.

Akron, O., May 14.—Two girls and a man are held on charges of suspicion in connection with the robbery of the Summit Health club here. They gave their names as Mildred Russell, Pearl Raines and Harry Ross. All are said to be from Erie, Pa. A safe in the club room was chiseled open and $1,200 stolen, police say.

No Report in Murder Case.

Canton, O., May 14.—The grand jury probing the murder of Miss Ruth Hunter, whose lifeless body was found on a lonely road near here on the night of Jan. 2, completed its session without making a report. The case was not dropped, but was continued until the next session of the jury for additional evidence.

Drop Proves Fatal.

Cincinnati, May 14.—Leslie Anderson, 44, died from injuries received, police say, when he leaped from a third-story window of his home. The family with whom Anderson lived said he had apparently been under a nervous strain for several weeks.

Liquor Evidence Stolen.

Alliance, O., May 14.—A liquor trial here was postponed when a bottle of evidence in police custody was stolen from one of the city offices. Only the neck of the bottle was found as the result of the search inaugurated by police.

Killed by Blast.

Cleveland, May 14.—Peter Spoth, 40, was killed when a boiler, which the police charge was a moonshine still, exploded in the basement of a billiard and soft drink parlor. Spoth leaves seven motherless children.

Boy Electrocuted.

Cleveland, May 14.—Alex Nagy, 9, was electrocuted at Luna park when he came into contact with a live wire carrying 110 volts, from which the insulation had been worn away. He died before reaching a hospital.

PENSION BILL VETO UPHELD

Coolidge Wins in the Senate by Margin of One Vote.

BURSUM MEASURE PUT AWAY

Fifty-three Senators Vote to Override the Presidential Veto and Twenty-three Against—Senate's Action Kills the Bill, Which Sought to Increase Pensions for Civil and Spanish War Veterans.

Washington, May 14.—By the narrow margin of one vote, the senate sustained President Coolidge in his veto of the Bursum pension increase bill.

The vote was 53 in favor of overriding the veto and 28 against. As 31 senators voted, it would have required 54 votes to nullify the veto. The senate's action kills the bill definitely.

Coolidge's stand against this appropriation, which he said was one of those measures that threatened to convert the treasury surplus into a deficit and make the tax reduction impossible, was sustained with the aid of Democratic senators. Of the 28 votes sustaining Mr. Coolidge 16 were Democrats and 12 Republicans.

The bill increases the basic pension for Spanish and Civil war veterans from $55 to $72 per month. It also increases the eligibles. The president in his veto message said the bill for the next fiscal year will cost the government $58,000,000. "There is no necessity to justify this additional government expense," the president wrote. President Harding vetoed the same bill last year.

Senators Willis and Fess of Ohio voted to pass the bill over the president's veto.

Republicans retained control of the conference on the tax reduction bill through appointment by the senate of three Republicans and two Democrats, the same ratio as fixed by the house.

The following were named as conferees by the senate: Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, Senators McLean of Connecticut and Curtis of Kansas, Republicans, and Simmons of North Carolina and Jones of New Mexico, Democrats, ranking Democrats of the finance committee. Chairman Smoot announced the first meeting of the conferees would be held this afternoon. About 10 days or two weeks are expected to be consumed in ironing out differences between the house and senate.

SUNDAY MOVIES HIT BY SUPREME COURT

Decision Likely to Be Most Sweeping in Its Effect.

Columbus, May 14.—According to a ruling by the Ohio supreme court motion pictures are theatrical performances and as such come under the Sunday closing law in Ohio.

The decision promises to be most sweeping in its effect because of the all-embracing wording of the section of law upon which it passes. Even showing of movies in churches on Sunday evenings probably will be illegal under the new interpretation of the law. Section 13,049 of the general code, which was the point at issue says: "Whoever on Sunday participates in or exhibits to the public, with or without charge for admission, in a building, room, garden or other place, a theatrical or dramatic performance shall be subject to a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment of six months in jail, or both."

In his opinion, Chief Justice Marshall says the law was originally written when motion pictures were unknown and for that reason the express term is omitted.

"All classes of shows and exhibitions and all theatrical and dramatic performances were already prohibited and a motion picture show merely constitutes a new species of one or another genus coming clearly within the inhibitions of the section," Marshall held.

The ruling came on an appeal of Walter K. Richards of Findlay, who was arrested and fined for operating a movie on Sunday.

FLIERS TO HOP OFF

Lap the Most Dangerous of the Around-the-World Trip.

Seattle, Wash., May 14.—Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States army's around-the-world flight, and Sergeant Alva Harvey, his mechanic, left Port Moller, Alaska, for Bellingham, Wash., en route to Washington, to receive instructions for rejoining the flight. They expect to receive a plane and rejoin the flight in India.

Lieutenants Lowell Smith, Leigh Wade and Erik Nelson, America's around-the-world aviators, who are to jump off the edge of the western hemisphere and into the eastern, are at Chicago, in the Aleutian islands. The fliers will gain a day during their trip westward, as they cross the international date line shortly after leaving Chicago.

Their flight, the most dangerous of the entire globe circling trip, will be made over 878 miles of open water, which separates the Aleutian from the Kurile islands. When they land at Paramushiro, Kurile islands, they will be on the Asiatic side of the Pacific ocean.

Policemen Indicted.

Cleveland, May 14.—Policemen W. J. Jenkins and John H. Jones were indicted on charges of manslaughter, as alleged slayers of Samuel Lacara, 33, and Joseph Malapont, 65, shot and killed last October during what the policemen declare was a visit preliminary to a liquor raid. The policemen claimed to have shot in self-defense.

LANGLEY TO APPEAL

Kentucky Congressman Sentenced to Two Years in Federal Prison.

Covington, Ky., May 14.—Convicted of the charge of violating the liquor laws, Congressman John W. Langley was sentenced to two years in Atlanta federal penitentiary. Motion for a new trial was denied. Milton Lipschutz, M. E. Ruff of Alliance, O., and Walter B. Carey of Canton, O., also was given two years each. Alfred F. Slater, over whose guilt the jury split, will face a second trial in October.

Defense for Langley and Lipschutz noted appeal. They were released under $5,000 bond. Langley, when asked what he had to say, asserted his innocence. He scored Samuel S. Collins, Kentucky prohibition director, for his failure to report to him the confessed attempt of Elmer H. Mortimer to bribe him with $12,000.

To Search For Radium.

Martins Ferry, O., May 14.—Four bushels of coal ashes and furnace dust, securely bound in sheets and stuffed in gunny sacks, were shipped to Pittsburgh, where they will be searched for $5,000 worth of radium. The ashes were taken from the furnace of Martins Ferry hospital, in which a $5,000 tube of radium was thoughtlessly thrown by a nurse.

Sports Editor Dead.

Cleveland, May 14.—Ross Tenney, sports editor of the Cleveland Press, died at a hospital here following an operation. The operation had been believed successful and Tenney was slowly regaining consciousness, when he collapsed and died.

MANY MINES IDLE

Eastern Ohio Suffering From Trade Depression.

Bellaire, O., May 14.—A survey shows that more than 60 per cent of the eastern Ohio mines are idle. Belmont county is especially suffering from the depression which has been felt for the past six weeks. Under ordinary conditions railroads would be hauling heavy tonnage to the lake shipping points of Cleveland, Lorain, Huron, Ashtabula and Erie. Instead shipment are very small. Operators blame freight rates which they claim are unfair for Ohio mines. They cite that West Virginia and Kentucky fields enjoy a five and two-thirds mill rate, while eastern Ohio mines pay slightly more than one cent, on the ton-a-mile basis. Operators also blame the competition of nonunion fields shipping through Toledo, where the report for the week ending May 5 show five times the amount of coal handled in all ports for eastern Ohio coal, a reversal of ordinary conditions.

Bandits Hold Up Messengers.

Middletown, O., May 14.—Seven bandits held two messengers of the First and Merchants' National bank and robbed them of $17,000 on their way from the postoffice to the bank. The robbers fled in an automobile. Arthur Fisher, 20, and Edward Gehm, 24, were the two messengers.

Desert Showers Count
The effect of a single shower on the southern margin of the Chilean desert is noted by Charles Darwin: "The farmers, who plant corn near the sea coast, where the atmosphere is more humid, taking advantage of this shower, would break up the ground; after a second they would put the seed in; and if a third shower should fall, they would reap a good harvest in the spring. It was interesting to watch the effect of this trifling amount of moisture. Twelve hours afterward the ground appeared as dry as ever; yet, after an interval of ten days all the hills were faintly tinged with green patches; the grass being sparingly scattered in hairlike fibers a full inch in length. Before this shower every part of the surface was bare as on a high road."—From Desert Trails of Atacama, by Isaiah Bowman.

Egyptian Water Clocks
Casts of two ancient Egyptian water clocks have just been presented by the Egyptian government to the Science museum, South Kensington, London, England. One of the clocks comes from Karnak, and dates from the reign of Amenhotep II, 1,400 years before Christ. The other is from Edfu, in the Ptolemaic epoch. From an examination of these clocks and the scale of measurements recorded on each, it appears that the "hour" of that remote period was a variable length, being one-twelfth of the length of the day or night of the particular time of the year. A study of these ancient timepieces is regarded as important in the comparison of astronomical observations.

Church Designs Studied
Modern religious thought and new economic conditions are bringing about a demand for a change in church conditions and as a result several of the leading denominations have named a special committee to study designs best suited for small or medium-sized congregations. Tailors of Tooley Street
When Canning was prime minister of England three tailors met in Tooley street, London, for the redress of popular grievances. They drew up a petition to the house of commons beginning, "We, the people of England." Hence, "the three tailors of Tooley street" came to be applied to any pettifogging clique which gets the notion it represents the voice of the people. The "three tailor" incident suggests a similar one in France. When Charles VIII was king the "deputies of Vaugirard" presented themselves at the palace. The sovereign asked how many of the deputies there were. "Only one, and please your majesty," replied the usher.—Detroit News.

Ungallant Oldtimers.
An old papyrus text, recently unearthed in Egypt, shows a strong bias against women. After citing a long series of unfortunate happenings in history, it bluntly charges all of them directly to the conduct and influence of woman. Then it goes on to say that if she have wealth for her ally in wickedness, the evil is double. The last line of the fragment is not entirely legible, but appears to be of the same general tenor.

HERRICK REFRIGERATORS

HERRICK
DRY AIR SYSTEM
REFRIGERATOR

The Big Difference In Refrigerators

The main object of any refrigerator, of course, is the preservation of foods. The refrigerator that will keep foods in perfect condition longest is naturally the refrigerator you want—provided it doesn't increase your ice bills.

The Herrick answers those requirements with facts—not claims. And it does even more. It actually decreases your ice bills while giving you more effective food preservation.

And why? Simply because the Herrick is far more than an ice box—far more than a cold storage place. It is built on the scientifically demonstrated principle that more than merely cold air is necessary to keep foods in good condition for any great length of time.

Perhaps the biggest essentials to scientifically correct refrigeration are—

- No. 1. Circulation of cold dry air.
- No. 2. Effective insulation.
- No. 3. Air-tight construction.

That the Herrick has these necessary essentials is a demonstrated fact.

Many proofs of the truth are visible even to the least informed purchaser. Others are hidden within the walls of the refrigerator, but nevertheless there, performing their functions so important to good health and economy.

Clutching at God's Reins

What discord should we bring into the universe if our prayers were all answered! Then we should govern the world, and not God. And do you think we should govern it better? It gives me only pain when I hear the long, wearisome petitions of men asking for they know not what. As frightened women clutch at the reins when there is danger, so do we grasp at God's government with our prayers. Thanksgiving with a full heart—and the rest silence and submission to the divine will!—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

ASK THE CHINAMAN.

This is an awful country, isn't it—what with bobbed hair, high taxes, oil scandals and the low price of eggs! Hard to make a decent living here; no chance to get along. You hear something like this pretty often. But is it, really, such a bad country? Ask the Chinaman, who is trying to bootleg himself into the United States as witnessed by this statement of Secretary of Labor Davis "Thirty thousand Chinamen are waiting in Cuba today, watching for a chance to be smuggled into the United States. They are willing to pay from $100 to $2500 a head to any one who will accommodate them." Our chance in America ought to be as good as the "heathen Chinese." We are already here, we know the language and the customs of the country and are in some degree established. If the man from China is willing to pay as much as $2,500 to get to this land of opportunity to make his fortune we ought to be able to keep even with the bill collector, at least.—Farm Life.

MARK TWAIN'S PHYSICIAN WRITES HIS EXPERIENCES.

Dr. Clarence C. Rice of New York who introduced Mark Twain to H. H. Rogers in 1894, when the fortunes of the writer had failed, and thus got the American humorist back on his feet financially, tells in The Mentor for May of his experiences with Mark Twain as a patient.

According to Dr. Rice, Mark Twain was never seriously ill till his final illness. Dr. Rice writes: "Mark Twain was never ill—just colds. I would take his temperature occasionally, but he generally insisted that it was only a bluff and that the thermometer was put in his mouth to keep him from talking. He told me that old yarn of the patient who obtained a prescription from his physician and, after looking at the paper, asked how much the medicine would cost. When the doctor told him that it would cost about two dollars, the patient requested his physician to loan him the two. The indignant doctor finally said: 'Here are the two dollars; give me the prescription, I want to make an alteration. I'm scratching out the nerve tonic, you won't need that.' Mark Twain observed: 'I have always admired that man. That was a noble piece of graft. I have thought of trying the game on you, but I've never seen the time when I thought you had the two dollars.'"

FUNERAL OF GEORGIA TRY.

The funeral of Miss Georgia Try was held at her late home on West Mill street Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Robert Lee Baird, of St. Philip's Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. David McDonald, of St. John's Episcopal church, Lancaster, officiated. The pallbearers were P. R. Hosler, George Brown, Clarence Wolf, Frank Hamilton, Charles Smith and Lawrence Johnson. Interment was in Forest cemetery.

Those who attended the funeral from out of the city were: Miss Harriet Wilt, William Wilt, Mrs. H. W. E. White, of Lancaster; Mrs. Herman Rowe, Mrs. Anna Beucher, Newport, Kentucky; Mrs. Ada Smith, Toledo; Clarence J. Try, of Detroit, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross, Mr. and R. P. U. S. CONSUMES MOST SULPHUR

Also the Greatest Producer of Precious Mineral.

The United States is the world's greatest consumer of sulphur. Scientists maintain that, in the Twentieth century, a nation's consumption of sulphur is a true measure of progress in civilization. Sulphur figures in practically every important manufacturing process.

"Not only does the United States consume more sulphur than any other nation; it has become since the war the outstanding producer of sulphur," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society. "Back of this rise to preeminence," continues the bulletin, "is a world drama between machinery and muscle, in which the United States and Sicily played the leading roles."

"The United States, armed with steam pipes, won. Sicily, actually starving, was about to give up when the American sulphur producers made an agreement to let Sicily serve the entire Italian market and ship a certain amount to other countries. It was an echo of the industrial revolution of the Eighteenth century when machines began to do men's work."

Sicilian Mining Primitive.

"Sicily in certain localities still mines sulphur as it was mined hundreds of years ago; even the Aztecs mined gold and silver by laboriously carrying ore up in baskets. In some places the old smelting process is in use. This consists of erecting a pile of sulphur igniting it and letting the sulphur's own heat melt the ore. Only 60 per cent of the mineral is recovered by this crude process and the product is impure. Better mines have been found in which the sulphur is melted and in some cases it is taken off in a volatile form, cooled to a liquid, and then to a solid block called 'zolfogreggio'."

"Driven by competition Sicilians used children in the mines. Child labor presented itself in its most horrible aspects as children of seven and eight years tugged at baskets of ore in ill-made mines. Many were permanently deformed by the burdens. Gases engendered by sulphur compounds make the mines unusually dangerous."

"Sulphur is found in paying quantities in many parts of the United States, but the richest deposits were discovered in Louisiana and Texas, near the coast. Here thousands of dollars and many lives were lost in wrestling sulphur from Nature. Quicksand, the great enemy of miners, was always on the job until finally necessity mothered invention. Frasch, a mining engineer, had an idea which revolutionized the sulphur industry."

A Revolutionary Idea.

"Over a known sulphur 'dome' 4,000 feet in diameter, a derrick looking for all the world like an oil derrick, was erected and a shaft forced down 1,000 feet to the sulphur. Three pipes were put down the shaft and in one superheated water under pressure was sent to do man's work. Sulphur melts at 240 degrees Fahrenheit so it dissolved in the water. Hot air under compression was forced down a second pipe and soon hot water with liquefied sulphur came spouting up the third pipe. The stream from a 'sulphur well' is directed into bins where the water is taken off, leaving the mineral generally more than 99 per cent pure. Steam shovels load it direct to freight cars. Economies of this process excluded the competition of cheapest Sicilian labor. The United States now produces 1,900,000 tons annually, almost nine times as much as Sicily mines."

"If the world had known that a nation could be judged by its sulphur, England might have realized at once the American colonies' importance. The first ore shipment ever made from the United States was sulphur. When Capt. John Smith established the Jamestown settlement in 1607, the colonists spent more time hunting gold than planting crops. Ships starting back for England filled their holds with what we now call 'fool's gold.' The 'precious' yellow mineral the colonists unearthed was sulphur; they sent pyrites back to England."

Court to Decide Who Will Pay Quake Damage

A suit to determine whether the buyer or seller of Japanese silk is to lose as a result of the earthquake and fire at Yokohama last fall was filed in the Supreme court at New York recently by S. A. Wenger & Co., against the Proper Silk Hosiery Mills. The plaintiff asks that the defendant be directed to arbitrate their dispute under the rules of the Silk Association of America.

The petition says the Proper Mills bought sixty bales of raw silk at $8.80 a pound from the Wenger company and the silk was appropriated to the account of the buyer last June, stored in Yokohama at the risk of the buyer, and destroyed September 1.

To Curry Army Mules With Vacuum Cleaners

Never again will the army mule or horses be submitted to the tortures of the currycomb. If recommendations made by the cavalry board of the army at Washington are carried out.

The vacuum cleaner is the modern weapon of cleanliness so far as army animals are concerned, the board declares, and it is urged that they be used in the future for grooming army horses and mules.

AMUSEMENTS

More than six months were spent in research, in revising the plot and in selecting the cast for Thomas Meighan's new Paramount star vehicle, "Woman-Proof" before a scene was filmed. The story was written by George Ade, noted humorist and short story writer, and it was revised again is claimed to be perfect in plot, and again until in its present form it drama and heart interest.

This Paramount picture, which comes to the Met theater tonight was directed by Alfred E. Green. While the picture is filled with comedy situations, it has a vein of seriousness which mirrors modern American life. It is one of the first Paramount pictures to be produced under the new policy of fifty-two pictures a year instead of the usual productions of from seventy-five to eighty photoplays.

The story concerns a young civil engineer, Tom Rockwood, the part played by Thomas Meighan, who is too busy with a big industrial project to think of matrimony. The boy's father had left a will stipulating that all his sons and daughters must marry and settle down before than can inherit his fortune of several million dollars.

Tom's brother and two sisters find little difficulty in choosing mates, but Tom cannot interest himself in women. As the time limit when all must be married approaches, Tom's family grow frantic in their attempts to induce him to enter matrimony.

A garden party is staged and Tom is surrounded by women of varied personalities. But he is bored and leaves before the affair is over for his work. Here he meets Louise Halliday (Lila Lee) and falls in love with her. Milo Bleach, executor of the Rockwood estate, will lose this post if all the Rockwoods marry.

He therefore tries to make Tom's proposal of marriage to Louise Halliday look like a business deal. Louise and Tom accidentally meet on board a steamer as she is leaving dock and here a reconciliation is effected. A radiogram instructs the Rockwoods on shore to marry and with the wedding at sea of Tom and Louise, the fortune is saved for all the Rockwoods.

In Memoriam.

Editor Union-Herald:—Charles Albert Mounjoy, son of Henry and Priscilla Clutter Mounjoy, was born in Tarlton, Ohio, October 29, 1855, and died May 8, 1924, aged 68 years, six months and 29 days. There survives his wife and one daughter, Myrtle E., also one nephew, Carl Mounjoy, of Columbus. Of his immediate family he was the last to go. Two brothers George and Thomas, have passed on before. He was baptized at the age of 21 years by Rev. Beavers, a Brethren minister, of Tarlton.

Mr. Mounjoy was born and reared in Tarlton and spent his entire life in the village in which he died. September 19, 1875, he was united in marriage to Rachel Neff and to this union one daughter was born. He had been one of the lifelong business men of Tarlton, having conducted a general store on Main street for 33 years. He was a good citizen, a kind father and husband and a friend to everyone. In the passing of this citizen our town and community has lost a prosperous and industrious man.

Funeral services were held at the Lutheran church Sunday afternoon, May 11, at 2 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. J. M. Wenrich of Columbus. The pallbearers were J. W. Shoemaker, Charles Barr, H. E. Stroupe, George W. Bockert, Charles Schwin, J. J. Reichelderfer, Frank Fetherolf and Charles Grubb. Interment was made in the Tarlton cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the singers and all of those who assisted in thought, word or deed at the funeral and the illness and passing of our husband and father, we express our sincere gratitude.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

To Cancel Deed.

Katharine Green, by Matthew L. Bigger, her next friend, has filed a civil action in common pleas court against John G. Green and Josephine Valentine.

The plaintiff in her petition claims, as the daughter of Lettie G. Green, who died January 24, 1923, that her interest was ignored, altho she was mentioned in the will of the deceased who asked her husband to provide for her. In conveying the property of the deceased, Lettie C. Green, the defendant, John G. Green, made no mention of his daughter having an interest in the property, but sold same to Mrs. Josephine Valentine for the sum of $2,600. The plaintiff asks the court to set aside this conveyance and cancel the deed given.

In another suit filed by the same plaintiff against G. W. Morrison, trustee of Sidner J. Ward, deceased, the plaintiff claims that Sidner J. Ward in item five of the will and again in item six of the codicil to the will thereto says that Lettie C. Valentine Green is entitled to a one-eighth interest of the estate and makes mention that in case of the death of the deceased, Lettie C. Green, that the children of his nephews or nieces should have their parent's share. The plaintiff claims in her petition that she is a child of one of the nieces, and is entitled legally to her mother's share. A balance of $700 is now held by the executor and trustee, George W. Morrison for the deceased, Lettie C. Green, for which she asks judgment. Matthew L. Bigger represents the plaintiff in both cases.

Divorce Suit.

The divorce case of Allie Delong against George Delong is being heard by Judge Curtin in common pleas court. The plaintiff is suing on the grounds of gross neglect and extreme cruelty. The plaintiff summoned eighteen witnesses and the defendant eleven witnesses. I. F. Snyder represents the plaintiff and Barton Walters the defendant.

* SOCIAL CALENDAR *

In spite of the threatening weather on Sunday a number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cook near Mt. Sterling, to remind Mrs. Cook of her birthday anniversary. The arrival of the guests near the noon hour was a complete surprise to the guest of honor. The contents of well filled baskets were arranged on a large table and everyone did ample justice to one of the most enjoyed dinners of the season. The guests lingered until late evening declaring it one of the happiest days of their lives and wishing Mrs. Cook many more happy birthdays. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harley Friece and son, Earl; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lininger and daughter, Mary Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kaufman and son, Paul, of Washington C. H.; Mrs. Mary Bryan, Mr. John Cook and daughter, Ida, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bryan and sons, John D. and Joe, Mrs. Jennie Clear of New Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dixon, Earl and Dean Dixon, of London; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Denen and son, Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook and son, Charles and daughter, Sadie, of Danville.

Miss Abbe Mills Clarke will entertain to bridge Thursday evening.

Mrs. Arthur L. Wilder will entertain to Bridge Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Machine Worth Having.

"The typewriter will never be perfect," says the Syracuse Herald, "until it can go ahead and write something without somebody telling it what to say." Which reminds us of what Kipling in his livelier days wrote as a testimonial for a certain machine. "I just start the typewriter off with a line," he said; "then I go out for a walk, and when I return there is the poem all written."—Boston Transcript.

Nether geography, climate, diet, heredity nor any other known influence sufficiently explains the cause, the distribution or the behavior of leprosy. FIND RUINS OF VILLAGES 1,000 YEARS OLD IN WEST

Professor Says Houses Unearthed in Arizona Sheltered One Hundred Persons Each.

Ruins of ten villages, estimated to be more than 1,000 years old, have been discovered in the hills northwest of Tucson, Ariz., by Byron Cummings, professor of anthropology at the University of Arizona, and his students.

The shells of these villages resemble the famous ruins of Casa Grande, but are on a smaller scale. Like the villages of many of the earlier aborigines of North and South America, these consisted of but one large house each, divided into numerous adjoining rooms.

The excavations indicated that the ten communal dwellings represented two distinct eras, separated perhaps by a few hundred years. In the villages of what was deemed the earlier period the floors were of clay and the walls had been made by plastering clay around a number of upright sticks. In the later homes stones had been worked in with clay and sticks. Remains of pottery were found on the sites of some of the villages.

Professor Cummings said some of these communal houses had held as many as 100 persons. According to his estimate, the latter villages were built about 1,000 years ago, while the earlier of the group probably were made a great while before.

Further excavations in the vicinity are planned.

Even the Baby Elephant Can't Escape Dentists

Charlie Ed, pampered darling of a circus in Chicago, had a toothache, and a toothache is to Charlie Ed what tonsillitis is to a giraffe—a tedious, long-drawn-out affair—and all this in spite of the fact that Charlie Ed is only three. It wasn't the tusks so much as the roots. The roots of Charlie Ed's upper incisors are one foot long and reached almost up to his eyes. The dentist didn't say "Just relax," or "please open wide." They had Charlie Ed trussed up and rendered helpless, and the poor little patient groaned at every pull. The tusk extractors are Dr. G. B. McKillip and Dr. William Tague.

Cotton Seen as Rival to Wool in Australia

The cotton-growing industry of Australia the last few years has made such rapid strides that it will be only a question of a short time before the value of the cotton crop exceeds that of the wool crop, which now ranges between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000 in value annually, according to a London dispatch.

In the last four years the acreage planted to cotton in the empire has increased from around 23,000 acres to approximately 180,000 acres, and the yield of the crop is said to have increased in proportion.

Queensland in 1922 produced 642 pounds of cottonseed to the acre, against an average of 492 pounds grown in the United States.

Find Ancient Belt Clasp Set With Gems in Spain

The National Archeological museum of Spain has come into possession of a jewel of inestimable value in the shape of a Visigothic belt clasp composed of bronze inlaid with cut garnets and turquoises, all in an admirable state of preservation, says a Madrid dispatch. Only two other specimens of the kind are known to exist. This one was found by an excavator in Carpio de Taja, near Torrijos, together with four buckles and parts of other clasps.

Search is being continued in the vicinity for other archeological treasures, the state defraying the expenses.

Technical Bulletin Aid to Bee Keepers

Results of Studies Made by Expert Agriculturists.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

To clear up certain points about which beekeepers and breeders of queen bees need information, United States Department of Agriculture Bulletin 1222, "Growth and Feeding of Honeybee Larvae," by James A. Nelson, Arnold P. Sturtevant, and Bruce Lineburg, apiculturists, has been issued. This bulletin sets forth in technical form the results of studies made by the authors, and should prove of value to those concerned professionally with the production of honey.

It has been found in the course of these studies that there is a difference in the type of food consumed by the honeybee larva on different days of its development. Food is supplied by nurse bees which visit the cells constantly for inspection and feeding. During the eight days from the time the egg is laid until the fully grown larva is sealed within the cell, the visits of the nurse bees average about 1,500 per day. It has been impossible to discover by observation what actually takes place when the nurse bee enters the cell to feed the larva, but certain theories which have been formulated in regard to this are discussed in the bulletin. The best manipulation of the bee colony to obtain good results in honey production is determined by some of the facts brought out by these studies.

The bulletin, which is in two parts, and contains many graphs and tables, may be obtained, while the supply lasts, by applying to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Inhumane Treatment Is No Cure for Blackleg

There is a groundless superstition among some cattlemen that a wire twisted through a cow's hide over the shoulder will prevent blackleg and other diseases.

Veterinary experts of the United States Department of Agriculture denounce this practice as barbarous and worthless. They say that such treatment can do no possible good. On the other hand, it is liable to do harm. The penetration of the hide of cattle with wires may result in infection as fatal as the disease it is meant to prevent or cure.

This inhumane treatment also causes damage to packing house equipment. The wires are difficult to detach and some are left in the hides after slaughter. When such a hide goes through the scraping machines the knives are nicked by the wire, and this leaves ridges on the hide. Other machine damages are caused by these wires and packers are quite concerned about the continuance of the ineffective, brutal wire treatment. The sure and proper method of preventing blackleg is by vaccination. Full information on the prevention of blackleg may be obtained free on application to the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Rations Without Silage

The farmer who has clover hay, but no silage will find in the following a ration that is designed to make up for the absence of the silage: three parts of corn and cob meal, three parts of ground oats and one part of linseed oil meal. The oil meal will provide some variety along with some laxativeness.

A ration that fits the needs of the farmer who has only timothy hay for his cows is: three parts of corn and cob meal, three parts of ground oats and two parts of linseed oil meal. The oil meal will bring up the deficiency in protein.

FARM NOTES

It isn't too early to plan for a better fair—state, county, or community.

The first essential for success with red clover is: Good northern-grown seed.

High-priced seed is not always good seed, but low-priced seed can never be good seed.

The delayed dormant spray must be applied at just the right time. Be sure the spray rig is in trim.

It isn't so much the number of trees in the orchard that counts. It's what those trees produce.

Failure to treat oats for smut the last few years has cost growers at least 3½ bushels an acre.

Uncle Ab says that when we arrive at the time when work just comes natural to us we inherit happiness.

Golden eggs have gone out of style except in fairy tales, but lots of green stuff fed to layers gets eggs that get the gold.

The greatest value of the typewriter on the farm is in the carbon copy it leaves with the writer of every order or business letter.

Some say work is a curse, others that it's a blessing; Uncle Ab says that, either way, there's nothing to equal the satisfaction of a job well done.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Big Boxing Bout at Armory - Twenty-Six Rounds of Contests.

Nothing that has been in Circleville for a long time has attracted as much favorable attention as the series of boxing contests being staged at the National Guard Armory, the second of which will be sprung on the eager public on next Friday evening.

These bouts have been uniformly clean, hard, good and interesting to everyone; men, women and children alike. The last bill, presented some two weeks ago, was of high caliber and the next promises to be even better yet. It is to be regretted that this game, but it is to be hoped that so few people are well acquainted with interest and appreciation in this, one of the greatest, and beyond a doubt the oldest sport in the world, will come to many. Boxing dates from the time when man had nothing to protect himself and his family and with which to gain a livelihood except his hands, and it has survived and grown ever since as the most natural impulse of manhood.

Much has already been said of the fine program of contests that will be presented at the next Armory show, but it won't hurt anything to recap a little. Wally Patterson, who scored such a lot of favor in his easy scrap here with Joe O'Malley, who is acknowledged as a comer and touted to be the best welter that ever came out of Columbus, is matched in the main mix with Al Leever of Portsmouth, who has the same rep in regards to his home town, Dayton. This will be a real collision, chuckfull of action and pep.

Frankie Wells and Soldier Mellow meet in the semi-final. Every one around here knows Chillicothe Frankie and not a few are well acquainted with Mellow's ability. This bout was arranged for simply because it is bound to be good, fast, active, in fact, one of the kind the fans like.

Circleville boys appear in both the opening engagements. In the second four-round Young Thomas and Joe Monoco of the Capital City will try to settle their former four-to-a-draw disagreement and these boys are the kind that will put up a fast well matched battle. Circleville's promising lightweight, Battling Toles, will again draw the opening curtain, this time against K. O. Barksdale, of Columbus, undeniably go-far material.

What better card could the boxing fan and those who should be fans ask for, than this? Twenty-six rounds of fine contests and all of it for half the outlay of many mediocre performances in other places. Get your tickets NOW. Get your girl or somebody else's Friday evening and BE THERE! But by all means, COME!

Chicago, May 14.—George M. Brennan, Democratic "boss" of Illinois, has challenged William Gibbs McAdoo to go on record for elimination of the rule requiring a two-thirds majority for the selection of a presidential candidate by the Democratic national convention. The challenge was issued on the heels of a statement by Judge David L. Rockwell, McAdoo's campaign manager, that McAdoo would have 648½ votes in the early balloting, far in excess of a majority and within 85 votes of the two-thirds required for nomination.

The residence property of the late George M. Miller, on Scioto street will be sold at the court house Monday, May 19th, at 2 o'clock. This property consists of a substantial brick house and splendid lot, 50x150 feet. Appraised at $2400. 13mayd5.
